

Transcript Record: Homosexuality and Divine Law

Timestamp: Wednesday, December 31, 2025 (America/New_York)

This document preserves the original language and sequencing, with light grammar and punctuation cleanup for readability.

Transcript

He doesn't sleep. (This came first - the voice introducing God.)

A heart attack would be fine for me. (An introduction about me: as far as the day I die is concerned, it just speeds me to my eternal resting place, so I don't fear it. So I suppose that statement from the divine makes sense.)

I then spoke these words to the Most High:

"Your law is the best, but there is a team on earth who says, 'God can't be real. How can He condemn all homosexual males who commit the act like the Old Testament says?' It is the one thing holding society back from accepting Old Testament laws. Mankind largely disagrees with the Old Testament penalty.

I'm not asking for a sign to prove Your stance, because no one knows me, and so it would simply be lost in the shuffle as something I can't prove. Please deal with me. Remember Abraham and how You were willing to converse with him, although we are just flesh."

"Long time happening. Serve, and then I will let you in. My ring happened." (This means 'His binding,' but that language might not be understood if you didn't have a history like me with the divine.) "What am I supposed to say? You are good? It murders Him." - Voice of God

"Exactly. Entire tribes are in a state of rebellion against You on earth due to this one law. They see it as unrighteous and so reject You simply because of it. Should such a law still be acted upon, and..." - Me

"Flame. My flame is with you. Go your way, Michael. So you think that is all I would tell you? Who is your master?" - God

"I have gazed upon what exists and have found no one more worthy to be called master than You."
- Me

"Friend, pet, settle it." - God

"Then I pronounce that gay people are allowed to have sex together, but just like Moses said, I don't expect people to believe me without a sign." - Me

"Got me." - God

"So, just because the prophet Michael wanted to speak to You, You are willing to nullify thousands of years of laws simply on the basis of my complaint being raised up? These people of earth are stubborn. How can they know You yield towards me settling it?" - Me

"Tick tock. Your friend has to die because they are stupid. I am not bounded, huh? Am I supposed to have a pity party for breakers of the covenant?" - God

(I sat with this question for a time, because I didn't think the answer was yes, and yet He is revealing more information - such as if He himself is celebrating with the gay people who would accept my settling of the issue.)

"For England, for Michael, for France, Germany - it's bullshit. Thousands of years?" (He is scoffing, as if that is nothing compared to Him.) "Be nice to my friend Michael. I have settled it. Thus says the LORD." - God

Then God said, "Darth Vader," which makes me feel good because I am a fan of his due to this one line he says:

"Don't be too proud of this technological terror you have constructed. The ability to destroy a planet is insignificant next to the power of The Force."

I then left the presence of God.